

Eddy Henning

Member of the Board

- Eddy Henning, born in 1972, studied at “Bankakademie” which is today better known as the Frankfurt School of Finance & Management. Before graduating with a degree in banking, he completed an apprenticeship as a banker at Deutsche Bank AG.
- He spent 28 years at Deutsche Bank AG, where he held various management positions in Germany and Asia. Before moving to Singapore in 2015, he was a member of the bank's Executive Board responsible for corporate banking in the Western region. As the APAC Head of Global Subsidiary Business in Singapore, he was managing international corporate clients from the Asia-Pacific region.
- Later, he joined ING Bank BV Singapore as Head of Corporate Client Coverage, Transaction Services and Corporate Finance Asia in 2018. After three months into his role, he took over as Head of Clients & Sectors Asia Pacific, being responsible for corporate client coverage and structured finance in Asia-Pacific.
- After that he became General Representative and Head of Wholesale Banking at ING in Germany on the August 1, 2020.
- On January 1, 2022 Eddy Henning was appointed to the Management Board of ING Germany and has been responsible for ING's Wholesale Banking since.

About ING Germany

With over 9 million customers, we are the third largest bank in Germany. Our core products are current accounts, mortgage loans, savings, consumer loans and investment products. For lending to small and medium-sized companies, we collaborate with the online platform Lendico in the Business Banking segment. In Wholesale Banking, we offer banking services for large, international companies. With over 6,000 colleagues, we are represented in Frankfurt am Main (headquarters), Berlin, Hanover and Nuremberg.

